APPOINTS COMMITTEE FROM BAR
TO INVESTIGATE O'NEIL'S CONDUCTJudge Blair Orders Attorneys to Prefer Charges Against Prosecutor if Evidence is Sufficient.

TO IMPEACH AND DISBAR HIM

Wallace Morgan Completely Exonerated of Accusations Preferred in Petition.

SHOWN TO BE FALSEHOODS

O'Neil's Attorney Says he Was Authorized to Have Parts Stricken Out—Objection Filed.

Wallace Morgan was completely exonerated of charges made by Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil in a petition, filed last Saturday, to revoke the appointment of Mr. Morgan as deputy in the hearing in the circuit court this morning and Judge Blair appointed a committee from the bar association to investigate the conduct of Prosecutor O'Neil not only in office, but also as an attorney at the bar, and report back to the court.

Judge Blair, after he had appointed J. T. Arbuckle, John H. Kiplinger and John D. Megee, to investigate the conduct of the prosecutor, he added that if the committee finds evidence sufficient, it is ordered to prefer charges against O'Neil in court, not only to disbar, but also to impeach him.

"I believe the citizens of this community," continued Judge Blair, "are entitled to better treatment at the hands of such an official than you have had. I wish that you gentlemen (referring to the committee from the bar association) would go into this matter as promptly and as thoroughly as possible."

Wallace Morgan was represented by Will M. Sparks and Samuel L. Trabue. Prosecutor O'Neil did not appear in court but was represented by his deputy from Shelby county, John C. Cheney. Wallace Morgan and Basil Seward were the only witnesses in the hearing.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Blair announced that it had been brought out that the charges against Mr. Morgan were unfounded and were falsehoods.

Mr. Cheney was heard first when the hearing was begun about eleven o'clock. He said the prosecutor had asked him to appear in court, and had also ask him to investigate the truth or falsity of the charges made against Mr. Morgan. He said he had found that they were based solely on reports and rumors which had been peddled to the prosecutor by outsiders. He declared no direct statements had been made to the prosecutor by such outsiders.

Mr. Cheney said he was authorized by Prosecutor O'Neil either to withdraw the charges contained in the petition to revoke the appointment of Mr. Morgan, or let the court find that there is no evidence to substantiate such things.

Mr. Sparks objected to this, and asked the court that no part of the revocation charges be stricken out. Judge Blair sustained the objection and said that he believed it was due Mr. Morgan, and that it was proper that he should be heard in the matter.

Judge Blair declared that Prosecutor O'Neil had been given every opportunity and he took it that, from the actions of O'Neil, the statements in the petition were false. He said that he would not allow any parts of the petition to be stricken out, although he would be willing to do so, but he thought it was owed to Mr. Morgan that he should be heard.

Wallace Morgan was placed on the witness stand and told of the incidents which led up to his appointment as O'Neil's deputy. He said O'Neil came to him and asked him to serve because the father of O'Neil was sick. He said that he told the prosecutor he would have to have a regular appointment, which was given him.

In response to questions asked by his attorney, Wallace Morgan testified that he had received no remuneration for his services from anyone while conducting the grand jury. Nor had he received, he asserted, any fees for his work since he began to serve as deputy for O'Neil. Mr. Morgan testified that he had complete charge of the office during the time he acted as deputy.

According to his testimony, Mr. Morgan met the prosecutor one day on the street and told him he would serve as deputy no longer, because he had consented to do so on account of O'Neil's father's illness and he had found out that was not the reason he was asked to serve. He testified that the prosecutor had been drinking and was intoxicated.

Judge Sparks took up the charges made in the revocation proceedings. The first was that Mr. Morgan had "maliciously and perniciously abused the trust confided in him." Mr. Morgan was asked concerning that and replied that he had never been directed by the prosecutor in any case, with the exception that he was asked by O'Neil to let his Shelby county deputy, John C. Cheney, have charge of the grand jury in probing a certain case.

The second charge was that Mr. Morgan had accepted a retainer fee from Basil Seward, when he had been asked by O'Neil to investigate the causes for which the liquor license was revoked by the commissioners, and ascertain whether he had a legal right to operate a saloon. Mr. Morgan denied all this.

He testified that Prosecutor O'Neil had never mentioned the name of Seward to him. He declared that he had never accepted a retainer from Seward. Mr. Morgan explained that he received a letter from Seward's attorney, while the attorney was out of the city, asking that the court grant a continuance in a case in which the attorney was interested. All the attorneys consented to the continuance, he said.

The third charge was that Mr. Morgan had failed and refused to carry out the orders of the prosecuting attorney in the examination into various crimes and misdemeanors, and had failed to make prosecutions therein.

Mr. Morgan testified that the prosecutor had never given him any orders of any kind. He declared that O'Neil had never mentioned to him that he intended to file the charges that he did and that he never had any intimation of such a thing.

Basil Seward was called to the Stand and testified that he had never given Wallace Morgan a retainer fee in any case. He declared that he had never authorized anyone to pay Mr. Morgan any fees for him, and that he had never authorized any attorney to approach Mr. Morgan in a way that might be construed as an offer of money. Neither had he ever had any intimation, Seward said, that anyone had approached Mr. Morgan in his behalf.

NO STEPS TAKEN
TODAY BY COURTJudge Blair Does Not Act on Petition Asking Immediate Investigation of Charges.

IN THE JACKSONIAN ARTICLE

Petitioners Declare Language May Tend to Influence Grand Jury to Act Hastily.

No action was taken by Judge Blair today on the petition, filed late yesterday by B. F. Miller and J. A. Tittsworth, in which it was requested the charges made in an article in the Jacksonian Thursday, that an attempt had been made to influence the grand jury probing the Harris case, be investigated immediately.

The grand jury will convene Monday to resume its investigation of the mystery which had its beginning over six weeks ago when the Harris homestead burned down at Ashland farm, and Mrs. Harris was burned up.

In the petition in which a complete investigation of the charge made in the Jacksonian article is asked, it is set forth that the grand jury is one of the chief agencies of law in the administration of justice; that its deliberations should be undisturbed and its verdict unbiased, either by individual favor or by views or opinions of any person or by outside influences of any kind, and should not be affected by any sinister or corrupt influence, and should be free from the domination of newspaper comment or public clamor.

The petition sets out the heading to the story published Thursday which was: "Some Outside Influences Attempted to Reach Grand Jury in Harris Probe. Quick Action is Looked For Now."

The next paragraph consists of the following clipping from the article: "It was admitted today that outside influences are making an effort to reach the grand jury now in session by officials who have been active in the Harris probe. One of the officials was asked this afternoon if the rumor had any foundation that influences were being brought to bear on the body now in session and he admitted that they thought such was the case."

The next paragraph sets out the following clipping: "It is claimed that one of the grand jurors last night slept with a man at a local hotel, who has shown more or less activity in the mystery although he is outside the matter, and not connected in any way. The officials here think that some unknown party or parties who are arranging a defense for some one are at the back of it."

"As a result the officials here said that the grand jury may act at once and not wait for a full inquiry, but rely on the coroner and his inquest."

The next two paragraphs consist of these clippings: "One of the officials said today that a man who is not connected in any way with the matter as far as they know, has been very active for a defense. This defense while suspected, is not known and the officials will not give out any statement as to who they suspect."

"The officials declare that during the inquest carried on by Coroner Shauck, the same invisible influence was brought to bear upon them and this fact avobe everything else lead them to think that the matter would bear probing to the very bottom."

The petitioners assert the article tends to bring reproach upon grand jury, court and upon administration of justice generally, and upon any person who may be suspected of any

BRINGS SUIT ON
NOTE FOR $500Special Administrator of Amelia J.
Powell Estate Files Action Against Original Administrator.

NOT ACCOUNTED FOR BY HIM

Petition of James E. Naden to Revoke
Basil Seward's Liquor License
Continued Today.

Carey Jackson, who was Tuesday appointed by Judge Blair as a special administrator of the estate of Amelia J. Powell deceased, today brought suit in the circuit court against Robert Powell, the original administrator of the estate, on a note demanding five hundred dollars.

The complaint says that on December 25, 1891, Robert Powell gave his mother, Amelia J. Powell, a promissory note for $175 at eight per cent interest, a copy of which is included with the complaint. The plaintiff states that Robert Powell became a non-resident of the State of Indiana in 1896, and did not return until 1908. It is set forth that the interest on the note was paid until December 25, 1895.

The plaintiff demands the payment of the note and interest since December 25, 1895, and the payment of fifty dollars attorneys' fees which have been due are wholly unpaid. This, it is declared, makes a total of five hundred dollars which is asked.

Robert Powell was appointed administrator of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Amelia J. Powell, after her death. He filed his final report, and the other two heirs, Mrs. Margaret Glendenning and Mrs. Ida Louden, filed exceptions to the report. They took exceptions to it because the note which they knew their mother to possess, was not accounted for. The exceptions resulted in the appointment of Carey Jackson as special administrator.

A continuance was granted today of the hearing of the petition of James E. Naden to revoke the liquor license of Basil Seward. It was set down for trial today. The license, it will be remembered, was revoked by the county commissioners, and Seward took an appeal to the circuit court. The continuance was asked by the petitioner.

The evidence in the case of George Erdman, trustee in bankruptcy of James W. Craig, against the Greensburg National bank, to recover a preferential payment of $2,345, which was heard in circuit court, was concluded late yesterday afternoon, and continued until May first, when the arguments will be heard by Judge Blair.

The case of George W. Lacey and Otto W. Lacey, against the Terre Haute Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company, for $250 damages, was dismissed yesterday and the costs paid. The suit was sent here from Hancock county on a change of venue.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Gallimore of Blue Ridge against William Downard of the same place, awarded the plaintiff two hundred dollars for nursing her half-sister, wife of the defendant, who died with Bright's disease. She asked for three hundred dollars.

WANT CLUSTER LIGHTS.

Brookville American: A sample of the boulevard cluster electric light, similar to those in use in Indianapolis, Rushville and other cities, was put up yesterday in front of the Brookville Electric Company's office. This system of lighting has proven popular wherever introduced, and a movement is on foot to have them installed in the business section of Brookville in place of the arc lights now in use.

ROSCOE COCHRAN EXPIRES

Obstruction of Bowels Fatal to Young Boy.

Roscoe Cochran, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran, died last night about nine o'clock at their home in Orange. He had been in poor health since last Christmas and became seriously ill about two weeks ago. The cause of death was obstruction of the bowels. He is survived by his parents and two brothers and two sisters. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon and burial will take place in the North Cemetery in Orange.

HABEAS CORPUS
IN PRICE CASEAttorneys for Local Man's Brother, Accused of Murder, Expected to Argue Question Today.

ASK HIS RELEASE ON BAIL

The habeas corpus action was held against Sheriff Patterson Friday by the attorneys for Zackariah T. Price, the Jennings county man, who is charged and who was once tried for the murder of his former farm tenant, Fletcher Cook, says the Greensburg News. It will be recollected that at his first trial the Price jury disagreed, standing at the time they were discharged, six for his innocence and six for his guilt.

By filing this action against Sheriff Patterson it is the purpose, if possible to secure Price the privilege of giving a bond and thus obtaining his freedom. This action filed Friday was to be argued before Judge Wickens Saturday and it is up to the court to rule if Price has the right to obtain temporary freedom from jail imprisonment by giving bond.

It was understood today that if bond is permitted, the bail will be set at $10,000, and that if Price secures the same he will at once go to the home of his brother in Rush county, where he will take up residence.

PENDLETON MAN TO GET CARTHAGE JOBSamuel B. Walker Will Take Place of W. W. Lindley as Superintendent of Schools.

BOARD FIGHT IS THE CAUSE

According to a dispatch from Pendleton to the Anderson Herald, Samuel B. Walker, teacher of English in the Pendleton high school has under consideration an offer for the superintendency of the Carthage schools, for two years at a salary of $1200. It is understood that the Carthage school board has not yet employed Mr. Walker but they have made him a proposition. Mr. Walker was in Carthage last week and will probably accept the position.

W. W. Lindley, the present superintendent of the schools there has had considerable trouble with William Bundy, president of the school board and as his time will be up this spring he will not be retained. Mr. Lindley has been at the head of the Carthage schools for two years and outside of the trouble with the school board head has given satisfaction. It is expected that the deal for Mr. Walker's services will be closed in a few days.

WILSON WANTS
$1,200 DAMAGESDeclares Driving Horse Was Injured to That Extent in Collision Halloween Night.

HIT BY FRAZEE'S AUTOMOBILE

Charges Machine Driver With Carelessness and Negligence—Says Mare Was Worth $1400.

Frank Wilson has brought suit in the circuit court against Edward A. Frazee and his son Edward to collect twelve hundred dollars damages for injuries received to his horse when it was hit by the Frazee automobile, driven by Edward Frazee, while George Weeks was driving the animal down the Main street hill between Fourth and Fifth streets last Halloween night. The Frazees live in Orange.

The plaintiff sets forth that the mare was of fine breeding and had been trained for two years. The complaint describes the accident. It states the mare was being driven south on the west side of the street by George Weeks. It is asserted that Weeks was about half way down the hill, when the machine came up the hill, at a high rate of speed, running into the mare and knocking her down. It is declared the mare was bruised and cut about the legs and body.

The plaintiff says the buggy in which Weeks and his wife rode was smashed. Mr. Wilson complains that the lights were lighted and that the auto driver could have seen the buggy coming south, had he looked. It is pointed out that Frazee carelessly and negligently drove his machine on the left or west side of the street in violation of the city traffic ordinance.

The plaintiff avers that, before the accident the mare was gentle and not afraid of automobiles. Since that time, it is recited, she has been nervous and excitable, and afraid when automobiles are around her.

Mr. Wilson sets forth that the mare was trained during the seasons of 1910 and 1911, and showed evidence of great speed. He points out that she is now of no value, due to injuries she received in the accident, and is of little value as a driving horse because of the fear she has for automobiles. Mr. Wilson asserts her value was held to be fourteen hundred dollars before the accident but that she now is not worth more than two hundred dollars.

FARM HOUSE IS RAZED

Home of James Murphy Near Straughn Burns to Ground.

The residence of James Murphy, northwest of Straughn, burned to the ground Thursday and only a portion of the household goods were saved. Fire started from a flue, which had burned out a short time before the house caught fire and it is likely that sparks found their way into the roof. The alarm was soon spread and several autos from Straughn hastened out loaded with passengers and the fire buckets from Straughn, but the house could not be saved. The loss is about $1,200 with $400 insurance.

SHIP WILL TAKE OFF AMERICAN REFUGEES

Situation in Mexico Demands Instant Relief

Washington, April 27.—At the urgent request of several hundred American citizens on the west coast of Mexico who have expressed fear for their safety, the state department has decided to send a government ship for their relief. In order to take off as many Americans as may wish to leave, it was decided that an army transport, instead of a warship should be used for this purpose. The transport Buford, now at San Francisco, has been selected by the war department. She will sail Sunday night and after a brief stop at San Diego, Cal., will proceed directly to ports on the west coast, where the American refugees are now being assembled. It is expected that these vessels will take off about 500 Americans and bring them to San Diego.

The use of the transport was decided upon following receipt of more urgent appeals from consuls and the refugees. It was decided that the vessel should be rushed to the coast as quickly as possible in order to anticipate any untoward action on the part of the marauders or rebels. The department will avail itself of this opportunity to send a special agent down the coast to make a study of conditions at first hand.

Wabash Fast Mail Turns Over Near Antwerp, O.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 27.—A dozen persons are in the hospital suffering from injuries received when the fast mail on the Wabash went into the ditch and turned over near Antwerp, O., last evening, about 5 o'clock. Three or four of the injured are in a critical condition. Practically all of the sixty passengers received cuts and bruises which were painful, but not serious. They continued their trips on later trains.

According to the statements of the train crew and passengers, the entire train went into the ditch, turning completely over and landing with the tops of the cars on the ground.

Reports from consular officials indicate that the general situation throughout Mexico continues to be serious.

COURT'S RULING AGAINST "WETS"

Howard County Restored to Dry Territory.

TWENTY SALOONS ARE BARRED

Decision of the Supreme Court Overturning the Finding of the Election Commissioners in the Kokomo Local Option Contest Marks the End of a Long and Bitterly Waged War in That City.

Kokomo, Ind., April 27.—As interpreted here, the effect of the supreme court's action in reversing the Howard circuit court in the case of Gilbert B. Jay against Michael O'Donnell will be to close all of Kokomo's saloons at an early date, restoring Howard county throughout its length and breadth to "dry" territory.

Kokomo has twenty saloons. Of these ten are bound by agreement with the Howard circuit court to abide by the supreme court decision in the case just decided. The other ten are operating under licenses granted before the O'Donnell case was taken up, and therefore are not bound by the agreement. However, if the decision means that Kokomo is "dry" territory these ten saloons will have to go out of business with the others.

There is pending in the supreme court a state case against Charles F. Ade, one of the license holders not bound by the agreement. In this case it is charged that the defendant sold liquor unlawfully, the specific allegation being that the sale was made in territory that had been declared "dry." In consequence of the supreme court's decision this prosecution will be pushed against Ade and against the other license holders who refuse to observe the decision and close their places immediately.

EDITOR LOST

Suit Carried to Supreme Court Goes Against Him.

Indianapolis, April 27.—Under a decision handed down by the supreme court, a board of county commissioners is not bound to pay a newspaper publisher the maximum amount provided by the law for the publication of legal notices. The decision came in the appeal in the case of Charles P. Butler, publisher of the Bedford Democrat, against the board of commissioners of Lawrence county. Butler published legal notices, including the delinquent tax list, and was not satisfied with the amount the commissioners allowed him, although he accepted it. Afterward he sued for a larger sum, but the supreme court holds that there is nothing in the record to show that the amount he received was not sufficient, and that this fact, with the fact that he had accepted the amount allowed by the board, prevented his recovery in the suit. Butler claimed the maximum price provided by law, but the court says the publisher is not necessarily entitled to the maximum amount. The supreme court affirms the decision of the Lawrence circuit court.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN A PERILOUS FLIGHT

Tornado Carries School House Through the Air.

Broken Bow, Neb., April 27.—Twelve children, a teacher and a little country schoolhouse were picked up bodily by a tornado, carried half a mile and gently deposited in the center of a big wheat field. Not a single injury was received by any of the children, but the teacher was badly hurt. The school building is so far from its original site that it will not be taken back. The cyclone struck the building while school was in session and carried it high in the air. In its pilgrimage the school passed safely over two streams.

NO MARCH HARE

Ever Had Anything on Teddy, Says Henry Watterson.

Louisville Ky., April 27.—"As mad as a March hare," Mr. Watterson says editorially in the Courier-Journal.

"The spectacle of the president of the United States engaged in an unseemly public quarrel with an ex-president of the United States may be, as the saying hath it, 'a sight for gods and men,' but from the viewpoint of a people proud equally of their country's dignity and power among the nations of the earth it is tragical.

"One is moved to ask, is the White House worth it to either of them?"

"Considered from the viewpoint of their antecedent relations, it is pitiable. It is even ghastly. Yet Mr. Taft might have taken a shorter cut to the truth. He might have said, 'I personally know that Theodore Roosevelt is of unsound mind, and I refuse to fight a madman.'

"If one of the Caesars who goes by the name of Nero was insane, Theodore Roosevelt, as pretending to be an imitation Caesar, is insane. His plan of campaign has been just such an insane delusion. The man is a maniac. He knows not clearly what he does or says. Never an utterance of his will bear discussion or dissection. Never an act of his can be defended.

"Let his family and friends take him to an asylum before he does something irreparable and it is too late."

Tibetans Declare Independence.

Shanghai, April 27.—The wholesale slaughter of Chinese throughout Tibet is reported, following the promulgation of a Tibetan declaration of independence. Advices from Pekin say that official reports tell of a general campaign of extermination of all the Chinese in Tibet.

WHITE CAR COMES BACK

FAMOUS AUTOMOBILE IN FORMER RACING DAYS COMPETES.

Gasoline Car Replaces Steam Machine in Second Annual 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Not since the days of old "Whistling Billy" and Webb Jay on the Florida beaches has the name of White been heard in the motor car racing sport until now when the announcement is made that a White "Six" gasoline car has been entered in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, with "Win" Barndollar nominated to pilot it through the long grind. The entry was made by the White Motor Car Company of Indianapolis, and Barndollar will take the big six-cylinder creation into the contest for that branch of the White company.

The latest entry to the half-thousand mile grind has a piston stroke of four and one-quarter inches and a cylinder bore of five and three-quarters inches, giving a piston displacement of 489 cubic inches under the peculiar White bonnet. With 114 inches wheel base and a clearance of but five inches the new speed car will be specially built for the two and a half mile brick track.

Although Barndollar has been a racing driver since 1906, he has intentionally kept from the public eye because of a desire to keep his professionalism from his family. However he has announced his willingness to take his chance with the new speed car and comes out openly as its pilot in the Memorial Day race. He has been successful in many road and track events and will prove a fit contender for the other "speed monarchs" who have been listed to send their cars through the five-century route.

This entry makes the fifteenth to list in the nation's greatest event, and from now until the time of entry closing, May 1, there will be added starters which are certain to bring the contest into a class even greater than the first 500-mile race.

The other entries to this event are as follows: Two Stutz cars with Gil Anderson and Len Zengle named as drivers; two National with Herr, Wilcox and Merz to drive; two Mercedes to be driven by Ralph De Palma and Spencer Wishart; two Case racing cars with Harvey Herrick and Louis Disbrow at the wheels; a Fiat under the hand of Teddy Tetzlaff; one Lexington driven by Harry Knight; a Cutting with "Wild Bob" Burman, world's speed king, as pilot; a Simplex driven by Bert Dingley, and a Knox owned and driven by Ralph Mulford. With the tentative entries now offered the field is brought up to twenty-five cars, with several others ready to declare their intention of entering the lists.

The field will be limited to thirty starters this year as the Speedway management has decided that this number will offer a better contest for such a long distance. With two and a half miles of the best track in the world to traverse it is believed that all past records for any distance will be broken in this all-day conflict.

An announcement which has proved of more than ordinary interest is that Eddie Hearne of Chicago, one of the wealthy sportsmen following the motor car racing sport, has consented to act as relief driver for the Case racing team and take the wheel of both cars during the race if necessary. Hearne has been a big winner in the past, his latest victory being that of running second in the Grand Prix race at Savannah in 1911.

Protection.

We learn from an illuminating exchange that "the people of this country are now thoroughly convinced that the robber tariff under which we are now living and suffering is the mother of the trusts." This is strange if true, says the Marion Chronicle. Robbers are not usually mothers, and mothers are not usually robbers. But, letting this pass, the tariff has no more to do with trusts than has the Declaration of Independence. That gave us a free country and a republic, and the tariff has protected us from competition of the cheap pauper labor of Europe, something equally necessary and important.

The lowest wages in the world are paid in China, one cent a day. Your Democratic friend would like to have his shoes made in China, and would if it were not for the "robber tariff" he talks so much about. Don't let him fool you. The Republican party believes in good wages for American workmen. That is the whole tariff proposition in a nutshell. You buy your shoes in China and your neighbor buys his clothes in England, and the man in the next block buys his farm products in Canada, and your town decays and your farm grows up with weeds. That is the tariff principle, protection to American industries, farm and factory.

Once in Merrie England, the first day of May was an occasion of simple country jollity. Today it has more laborious and formal functions in our strenuous social economy.

This is the traditional date when the metropolitan family, becoming weary of a flat in which you have to go out of doors to turn around, takes up the annual but elusive pilgrimage in search of a real home, with the usual result.

Over in Europe May is the period for labor demonstrations. As our method of celebrating the glories of toil is to attend athletic field days, May day as a trades union celebration has never been so popular here. But occasionally the labor unions get out for a long and dusty march with white beaver hats and twirling canes.

In some of the more advanced churches, the first of May is the occasion for dancing around the May pole, after the jolly old English custom. But the simple fashion of footling it around the village green no longer goes. The young folks have to be rigged up in their Cuban heels and white stockings and all the other fluffery.

Some of us can recall the time when the American Little Red school house used to observe May day in a fashion of its own. There were no fluffy clothes, no parading the streets, no upsetting of home ties. School marm and pupils used to get out into the woods to gather flowers. There was a charm about May day in those times that is not to be found in whanging bands of music or slicked up children with spatted hair.

The people should certainly rule, but from the difficulty encountered in getting them out to caucuses, they seem to like going to the ball games better than ruling.

These are times when the presidential candidate who merely says "you are not absolutely accurate," to his opponents will never kick many hats out of the ring.

That women's dresses have more buttons than ever and considering the tasks before him, the June bridegroom may naturally feel a little shaky.

The initial number of the municipal weekly newspaper demanded by a majority of the voters of Los Angeles, Cal., at a recent election, has made its appearance. It will deal with all phases of the city government in its relation to the people, without bias or prejudice. It will carry a political page on which each party will be allowed one column in which to present its views. No telegraphic news, accidents' scandals, society or sports will be handled. The claim that it is the first publication of the kind in the history of journalism is erroneous. Every Spanish country has an "Official Gazette" made up on the same lines.

It is reported that although the college teams are playing ball a few belated lectures are still being given in the class rooms.

The Arizona Senate has defeated woman suffrage. Perhaps the muffins were soggy that morning.

The Kansas City Star says "Massachusetts is the 'crux of the political situation.'" O shux!

'Tis rumored Mr. Bryan is not satisfied with writing up the golden weddings and receiving farmers subscriptions in potatoes, but wants to run for president.

Some people go so far as to say there is at least one presidential candidate who does not deserve to be jailed immediately.

As we hold no stock in the Harvester Company we have no doubt that it is a bad trust.

Registration Law Facts

Books and Blanks.

Registration books and blanks shall be prepared by the county auditor, and he shall, ten or more days before the May session of the registration board, deliver to each inspector two blank forms of registration books, blank applications for registration and other necessary stationery, which should contain a blank for the qualifying oath of the clerks. The inspector should, before registration day, place a portion of the application blanks in such place or places and in such hands in the precinct so that the voters generally may have access to such blanks before the day of registration, retaining a sufficient number to supply all voters of the precinct who may apply for them on registration day. These blanks may be printed or written by any one.

Each registration book shall be covered with tag, have a proper caption, with blanks to adjust it to any precinct, and be ruled in ten columns, headed respectively; Number, residence; age; where born; when came to U. S.; when and where naturalized; when and where declared intention; where resided since October last; remarks. Each registration book shall contain a sufficient number of leaves to allow the names as elsewhere shown, and an alphabetical index in the back of the book of the names registered, with a reference to their number respectively.

Who May Register.

The object of the registration law is to provide for and require registration of all voters who may be qualified and desire to vote at the next general election. The present qualifications fixed by our constitution have not been changed, and any one who may be qualified to vote at such election is entitled to registration therefor.

In other words, on election day the act requires that, in addition to his constitutional qualifications, he must be registered. Registration alone does not qualify one to vote, but if a citizen is otherwise qualified and not registered his vote can not be accepted.

All persons appearing to cast a vote at the general election must have been legally registered; and so one not of age at the time of registration but who will be 21 years old on or before the election, and is otherwise qualified, should register in order to vote.

How to Register.

The voter must present himself in person to the board of registration and announce his name and present his application. Before the voter presents himself to the board, he shall make, or cause to be made, in writing and partly in print, his registration application, signed by him. If he can not write his name in English he may write it in any other language, and if not able to write in any language he may procure some resident of the township to write his name for him, and he shall make his mark, and the person so writing the applicant's name shall also write his name on an application as an attesting witness. It is made unlawful to write the name of an applicant to an application unless the other party writing it is personally acquainted with such applicant.

The Junior and Senior reception of the Raleigh high school was given at the beautiful furnished home of Iva M. Hays, living three miles south of Raleigh one night this week. The house was decorated very beautifully. The dining room was in the high school colors, red and white; the music room in senior colors, lavender and cream; the living room in the Junior colors, purple and white. To complete the tasteful work many large bouquets of cream colored roses were used.

At 8 o'clock an elegant supper was served, consisting of baked chicken, salad, dressing, escalloped oysters, buttered sandwiches and pickles as the first course with ice tea as drink; second course, red and white ice cream, cake and mints. Red and white carnations were used as favors. After supper punch was served. A short entertainment was then given by the Juniors, consisting of music, contests and readings.

The Seniors honored by the reception were: Sylvia Holwell, Ruth Miles, Mariam White, Luther Nixon, Gurney Grey, Carl Beam, Lucy Keith, Paul Beam, Zula Jackson and Nellie Hayes.

Seventy-five attended and those present from a distance were Earl Smalley of Indianapolis and Raymond Bailey of Bentonville.

High School Notes

By A. Spider

Eulalia Bebout has quit school.

Leland Campbell was absent Wednesday.

Frost Clifford quit school this week.

Laz Weaver was absent this week.

The B3 History class had a test Monday.

Donald Sparks, '12, visited in Indianapolis Wednesday afternoon.

The literary club which was to have met yesterday, was postponed until next Friday.

Sue Anna Sexton, '13, was absent this week.

The A1 Biology class journeyed to the woods Thursday afternoon. They went for the purpose of studying nature. All the class reported a fine time and expressed their desire to go again.

Helen Wilson was absent Tuesday.

A large number of high school students will go to Indianapolis next Friday night on a special car to see Julia Marlowe and E. H. Southern in Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Agnes Higgs was absent Friday afternoon.

Merle Maupin was absent Friday.

The American and English History classes, taught by Prof. Smelser had a very interesting debate, in the presence of the whole high school Wednesday morning. The question, "Resolved, That the British Government is Superior to the United States Government" was won by the affirmative side. Three students from each class was represented and many questions were hotly disputed. The debaters were well chosen and both classes put up a good argument. Prof. Wilson, Forry and Tyner were the judges. The English history class was represented by Donald Alexander, Chase Bussell and William Reeves. The American history class by Edythe Swallow, Edwin Watson and Karl Kennedy.

The track team which is composed of fifteen high school boys, are working every night getting in training for the meet at Lafayette, which will be held May 10, the same day that Pauline Felts will represent the local high school in the oratorical contest. The track and field events will be held in the afternoon between the six cities which are in the oratorical association. Rushville has a good chance of getting third or fourth place in the track events and a fine chance of getting first place in the oratorical contest. The high school is endeavoring to obtain a special car for that day and any "outsider" who is thinking of going would be accepted.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace has an exceptionally good program tonight. An American film, "The Real Estate Fraud" is the title of the first. It is a thrilling drama dealing with the events of every day life. The other picture is an Imp comedy, "The Winning Miss." It is said some very funny situations exist in this picture.

The Portola will have a feature program tonight showing three reels of pictures. "The Chocolate Revolver" is a clever Vitagraph drama. "The Little Organist," is an Edison drama. The program will be concluded with a Biograph comedy, "A Near Tragedy." Special music by Houck and Van Camp will also be featured.

The Princess offers for tonight a Lubin and a Melies film. "His Mistake" is an appealing story of human interest and is told amid beautiful settings. "Smiling Bob" is a western picture telling a story of self-sacrifice. Monday the feature Biograph, "The Mender of Nets" will be shown.

GOOD-BYE CATARRH

Hyomei Quickly Clears Stuffed-Up Head and Stops Snuffling and Hawking.

In the morning, shortly after you awake, dear reader, do you have to hawk and strain to get that stubborn piece of mucus out of your throat?

Get rid of catarrh now; it will grow worse as you grow older. One day of breathing pleasant, healing HYOMEI, (pronounce it High-o-me) the guaranteed catarrh remedy, will give you such wonderful relief that you will wonder why you doubted the statement that HYOMEI would end the most aggravating case of catarrh.
Remember HYOMEI does not contain any cocaine, opium or other habit forming drugs.

A hard rubber indestructible pocket inhaler and a bottle of HYOMEI costs $1.00. This is called the HY-OMEI outfit. If one bottle does not banish catarrh, you can get another for 50 cents at F. B. Johnson & Co.,

Indiana Red Cross Doing a Notable Work.

Indianapolis, April 27.—Having been appointed special organizer for Indiana by the Red Cross society, Dr.
Henry Moore of this city is now engaged in making a tour of all of the counties of the state in behalf of that organization. He is organizing local branches and is making a special effort in the direction of spreading the anti-tuberculosis work of the society.
One of his plans is to inspect personally all of the county infirmaries in the state to gather all possible data in regard to tuberculosis cases, and to seek out cases all over the various counties and make an effort to have them cared for properly. He has succeeded in having a number of tuberculosis patients sent to the state tuberculosis hospital at Rockville for treatment.

In this work Dr. Moore is meeting with hearty co-operation on the part of local health authorities and physicians, he says.

TRIP ABANDONED

The Olympic Was Compelled to Transfer Her Passengers.

Portsmouth, England, April 27.— Abandoning hope of making the giant liner Olympic, sister ship of the Titanic, ready for sea, the White Star line ordered the greatest vessel afloat back to Southampton, to discharge her passengers.

Following two days of futile attempts to reconcile the firemen and deck hands of the Olympic to take the vessel out, it became apparent that the voyage could not be undertaken, and arrangements were made to transfer the passengers booked on the Olympic to other vessels.

The firemen mutineers on the Olympic were arraigned and remanded until April 30. They were admitted to bail.

TRIED TO WARN
THE BIG LINER

Get a Curt "Shut Up!" for Their Good Intent.

THE CALIFORNIAN SNUBBED

The Captain and the Wireless Operator of Allen Line Steamer Testify Before Senate Committee as to Reception Given Their Efforts to Warn the Titanic of the Presence of Dangerous Bergs on the Liner's Course.

Washington, April 27.—Less than two hours before the liner struck the berg the reply the wireless operator of the Titanic made to the warning of the proximity of a dense field of ice was "Shut up, shut up!" This was learned by the senate investigating committee. Captain Stanley Lord and Wireless Operator Cyril Evans, both of the steamship Californian, testified to the curt reply to their attempt to warn the big liner of the danger that lay ahead.

It was further established in the testimony of Captain Lord that his ship lay surrounded by ice not more than 19½ miles from the Titanic from the time she struck the iceberg and sent out her C. Q. D. call until she sank beneath the surface. The testimony of both men demonstrated that but for the accident of a weary wireless operator going to bed, the Californian would have heard the call for help from the Titanic and proceeded to the assistance of the liner at once.
The committee also seemed much impressed by the fact that Captain Lord regarded the ice reports he had received as serious enough to warrant the precaution of doubling his lookouts as soon as it became dark Sunday night. No such precaution was taken on the Titanic, though the Titanic was making just double the speed of the Californian.

Much contradictory testimony was heard regarding rockets seen from the bridge of the Californian that Sunday night just about the time officers of the Titanic were signalling in this way in the hope of attracting the attention of a ship sighted off her port bow.
Ernest Gill, donkey man on the Californian, appeared before the committee and swore to a statement that rocket signals of distress from a neighboring ship were ignored by the officers of the Californian. Captain Lord of the Californian acknowledged that the firing of rockets from a ship that lay in the ice three or four miles distant had been reported to him, but declared that his officers told him they were not signals of distress. This ship, he said, would not pay attention to his attempts to communicate with her by the Morse electric signal. It could not have been the Titanic, Captain Lord insisted, because rockets from her could not have been visible to the Californian, nineteen miles distant. Operator Evans said Gill had told him he was going to get $500 from a Boston newspaper for telling about the rockets.

Testimony by twelve members of the Titanic's crew corroborated statements already made in regard to the presence of an unidentified vessel within a few miles of the Titanic and brought out interesting details of what happened on the Titanic and after she went down.

New Yorkers Do Honor to the Memory of General Grant.

New York, April 27.—The funeral of Major General Frederick D. Grant took place yesterday. From the Battery to the West Forty-second street ferry the streets through which the funeral procession passed were lined with people who paused hat in hand while the caisson upon which the casket rested, followed by the general's horse, went by. The interment was in the cadet cemetery at West Point, in a spot which the general himself had chosen from which one could see the military academy and the whole sweep of the Hudson.

General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, Vice President and Mrs.

nor, and other men in public life attended the services in the gray chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion on Governor's Island, preparatory to the journey through the streets of New York on the way to West Point.

A Young Irish Girl's Story.
Chicago, April 27.—Annie Kelley, a young Irish girl, who was one of the last women to leave the sinking Titanic, for a consideration of $25 was forced to sign a waiver of damages by agents of the White Star line, according to her statement in Chicago. She also asserts that the receipt for settlement in full for damages was signed by her while she was in a semi-conscious condition in a hospital and that steamship agents guided her unsteady hand after representing to her that the paper she was signing was a ticket to Chicago.

GERM LADEN DUST
CAUSES CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm Kills the Deadly Catarrh Germs. No Stomach Dosing.

Catarrh, which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste, smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose, and its natural course is downward, into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed up feeling in the head, nasty discharge from the nose, sore throat, or dry, hacking cough, get a fifty-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once.

This remedy is not a "burning out" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm, taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble.
That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today, and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease. Hargrove & Mullin, special agents.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

An idea worth passing on is to have a large safety pin fastened to the outside of piece bags and whenever a new piece or pieces are added to it put a sample in the safety pin, so that a glance will tell what pieces are in the bag, much time will be saved in rummaging and disarranging the pieces.

It is a good plan to have silks, woolens and cotton pieces by themselves. After washing and drying woolen blankets, beat with a carpet beater and they will renew the light and fluffy look that they had when new.

Moisten grease spots with cold water as soon as possible, it keeps the grease from soaking into the wood.
Soda sprinkled on to grease spots with a little warm water before scrubbing aids the removing process.

Milk that is scorched need not be thrown away, but if set into cold water in a clean dish, in a short while the scorched taste will disappear.

A good way to warm rolls is to lay them in a clean cloth in a collar and place over steam on the teakettle.

Small pieces of toilet soap if kept in a glass jar, can be made into soap jelly by boiling with soft water. This jelly is a nice soap for washing the hair.

Sour milk is a good mild silver cleanser. Place the silver in the milk and let stand for an hour, then wash in hot soapsuds.

If one has a small closet partitioned off in the cellar with a window for ventilation, vegetables and fruits of all kinds may be kept indefinitely.
If windows stick and are hard to open, grease the cord with a little oil and pour a little around the window frame.

If a small piece of zinc is burned in stoves and furnaces the soot will not form in the pipes or chimneys.

If blood stains get on woolen cloth, rub while fresh with a dry starch, this absorbs the blood without leaving a trace.

TAFT GUILTY OF A CROOKED DEAL

This Is What the Colonel Now Charges.

SAYS HE'S SORRY FOR TAFT

Pointing Out to His Massachusetts Hearers How He Secured the Election of His Successor in 1908, Roosevelt Shouted to His Hearers: "It is a Bad Trait to Bite the Hand That Feeds You."

Worcester, Mass., April 27.—Replying to President Taft's broadside against him, Theodore Roosevelt declared Mr. Taft guilty of the "grossest and most astounding hypocrisy" in declaring that he had never been disloyal to Roosevelt, gave the lie to the president several times, asserting at one time that the president was "guilty of a crooked deal"; at another that the president's conduct in opening up the harvester trust correspondence "obviously to influence the Massachusetts primaries, represents the very crookedest kind of a crooked deal," and declared that the action of the administration in not appealing the circuit court order in the tobacco case to the supreme court was "incompatible with the theory that the administration was acting in good faith."

Asserting that "Mr. Taft is president only because I kept my promise in spite of infinite pressure to break it," and relating that President Taft wrote after he became president, "I can never forget that the power I now exercise was voluntarily transferred from you to me," the colonel shouted to his hearers: "It is a bad trait to bite the hand that feeds you." He had been defending his interpretation of his promise not to accept a third term having referred to a "consecutive term," insisting that if he had raised his little finger in 1908 he could have had the nomination, but had steadily refused it, for Mr. Taft.

Colonel Roosevelt declared that the president in the Ballinger-Pinchot affair, especially in connection with "that part of it in connection with which important documents were mis-dated," was guilty of conduct "which if he had been the head of a bank would have gotten him into serious trouble with the bank examiner and possibly even with the district attorney."

Summing up his attitude of opposition to the president, the colonel snapped out these sentences: "I do not believe he has given the people a square deal. I believe he has yielded to bosses and to the great privileged interests. I think he has done this through feebleness, not through victiousness. I am sincerely sorry for him and only regret that he did not have the strength of character to make good his promises to the American people."

BACK TO WALL

The President Is Forced to Fight, He Tells New Jersey Folk.

New York, April 27.—President Taft, speaking to an audience of 7,000 in Newark last night, again arraigned Colonel Roosevelt for persistent unfairness and misrepresentation of him and his administration. It was not a demonstrative audience, but it cheered mightily when the president, after explaining how unpleasant it was for him to answer the charges made by Colonel Roosevelt, said:

"But I am forced against the wall with my back to it, and I am bound, if I have any manhood, to fight."

The mass meeting, which brought out one of the biggest crowds that ever listened to a political address in Essex county, was held under the auspices of the Taft Business Men's League. Mr. Leach, who presided, told the crowd that Colonel Roosevelt had vilified and misrepresented the president, but that the Republican party would see to it that Mr. Taft was renominated and re-elected. He was followed by Job Hedges, who let fly at the colonel. "One of the three or four hundred reasons I am not for him," said Mr. Hedges, "is because he doesn't see how anybody can be against him without being immoral." Mr. Taft was hoarse and looked weary. In the main his speech closely followed his address in Boston on Thursday night, except that it was more moderate. Among the things he said were:

"The presidency of the United States is a great office to which many have aspired, and many who have not reached it have not realized the other side of the picture—that while it presents something much to be desired in the way of an opportunity to help one's fellow men, it also presents responsibilities and sometimes causes great agony of spirit."

"I don't know that any president that ever preceded me has been tried as sorely as I am being tried. I was recommended by Theodore Roosevelt.
He did everything he could to nominate and elect me. The American people are greatly indebted to Mr.
Roosevelt—not for electing me—but for arousing them in his seven years of office to take an interest in their own government. And I am not taking back anything I said as to the debt the country owes him in that way."

TAFT INSISTS ON AID TO FARMERS

Says Department of Agriculture Work Must Go On.

LABORS FOR CONSERVATION.

Far-reaching Legislation Administered by Scientists of Rank Brings Good Results to Tillers of Soil—Food and Drugs Act Upheld to the Letter.

In his inaugural address President Taft called attention to the deficit then existing in the revenues and the consequent necessity for rigid economy in expenditures. However, the president slighted out the department of agriculture as an exception. He said, to quote his exact words, "In the department of agriculture the use of scientific experiments on a large scale, and the spread of information derived from them for the improvement of general agriculture must go on." This view the president has steadily maintained, and repeatedly has urged appropriations for the work of the department.

In his comprehensive message on conservation President Taft said, "The feature that transcends all others, including woods, waters, minerals, is the soil of the country," and that all means at the government's disposal should be used to conserve the soils, adding, "a work of the utmost importance to inform and instruct the public on this chief branch of the conservation of our resources is being carried on successfully in the department of agriculture."

Reports made recently to Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture by the heads of his bureaus justify this solicitude on the part of the president for the department. In calling for these reports the secretary asked that they be brief and that they mention notable achievements of the last five years only. Inasmuch as that period is really the period of fruition in the department, the period during which, owing to the broad foundations previously laid by the training and grouping of many corps of scientific men, by securing far-reaching legislation, by gathering together masses of statistics and other information, by providing scientific and other equipment, it has been possible to produce most marvelous results for the common good of the people.

Taft For Conservation.

In his conservation message President Taft emphasized the importance of the maintenance of the forests and urged their scientific treatment "so that they shall be made to yield a large return in timber without really reducing the supply," and in other messages he pointed out the necessity of reforestation. In accordance with these views much available work has been done in protecting the national forests and by researches in the laboratory of the department at Madison, Wis., and in the past five years the work of reforestation burned over areas has proceeded at the rate of 15,000 to 30,000 acres a year. The department takes justifiable pride in its forest work, considering the administration of 100,000, 000 acres of land protected and managed for the public benefit a great achievement.

Since Jan. 1, 1907, when the food and drugs act went into effect, more has been done to provide a good, clean food supply than in all the preceding life of the nation. A wonderful change has also been effected in the character of the drugs on sale. The department has a trained force of inspectors and chemists doing excellent work in all parts of the country in behalf of pure foods and pure drugs. This salutary law, however, needs amendment, as the supreme court held in May, 1911, that its provisions, to quote President Taft's words in his vigorous message to congress a month later, "do not cover the knowingly false labeling of nostrums as to curative effect." The president added: "An evil which menaces the general health of the people strikes at the life of the nation. In my opinion the sale of dangerously adulterated drugs * * * constitutes such an evil and warrants me in calling the matter to the attention of the congress."

Work of Soil Mapping.

Of importance to the farmer has been the work carried on in the past five years of soil mapping and classification, so that now the area included is 407,000 square miles, or nearly 41, 000,000 acres. The value of this work is incalculable.

Disseminating the valuable information acquired by the department has proved a wonderful work. Practically 200,000,000 publications have been distributed since Secretary Wilson assumed control of the department, and more than half (103,598,100) of that number have been distributed within the past five years.

Other work accomplished by the department includes a comprehensive system of weather warnings and forecasts, the meat inspection service in which 2,500 experts are employed, who see that every pound of meat sent interstate is fit for human food, protection of live stock, the checking of rodent pests, the destruction of noxious insects, the conservation of water supplies, the building and care of public roads and the policy for better farmhouses, so that every dollar expended in the prosecution of this work in its numerous phases has brought back a hundred fold to the people.

ing editors, reporters and managers to appear forthwith and require each and all of them to disclose the source of information of statements quoted and to further order each to state the grand juror's name alleged in quoted language to have slept at a local hotel Wednesday night with some person in the defense, and to give name of person slept with, and name of hotel; further to show what influence, if any, said person used on grand juror; further ask editors, reporters and managers to name official or officials who are quoted as having declared certain persons were asking to influence the grand jury."

The petitioners ask the court further that if the names of any officials are given, that they be ordered to appear in court and disclose any information which they may have that a person or persons had been seeking to influence the grand jury in any illegal or improper way.

They request in addition that the official or officials be required to give the name of any person or persons and state methods or means by which person or persons are alleged to have sought to influence the grand jury. They ask that the name of the grand juror or grand jurors be given also.

The petitioners further ask that if the names of the grand juror or grand jurors are furnished, that the court order the one or any number there may be to appear and state what person or persons sought to influence them in an illegal and improper way.

In the last paragraph of the petition it is said that the court freely and fully investigate all the allegations and charges made in the Jacksonian article, and that directly or indirectly charge that corrupt influence has been brought to bear on one or more grand jurymen.

WARNS AGAINST FOUL BEE BROODS

State Entomologist Urges Keepers to Separate Dead Colonies to Avert Further Loss.

SEVERE WINTER KILLS MANY

Conditions in the apiaries of the State demand at this time, that a special warning be given to the beekeepers, according to C. H. Baldwin, State Entomologist.

He says: "The severity of the past winter has produced extraordinary conditions which necessitates prompt action on the part of the beekeepers so that the loss of the winter be not multiplied this summer. Both European and American foul brood are known to exist in a very large number of widely scattered communities. In order to prevent its spread still farther, it is imperative that all persons possessing bees at all should inspect their apiaries at once to ascertain the number of dead colonies. The death of the bees this winter is ascribed to the cold weather; but it is quite certain that many colonies died because they were weak from foul brood last autumn and were, therefore, unable to withstand the severe cold of the winter. In order to prevent the adjacent presumably healthy colonies from contracting the disease also, they must be effectually barred from the hives in which the bees have died.

"Special care must also be used by those who desire to remove comb and honey from the dead colonies. To eliminate the danger as far as possible, it is advisable to remove the dead colonies to an enclosed building where the bees can not enter. There this work may be carried on safely. It cannot be stated too emphatically that the bees must not be allowed access to the comb and honey in localities where foul brood exists. A little care at this time will loss later in the season."
